

Δύο επιστολές προς Σαμαρά και υπουργούς

Οι δύο επιστολές που απέστειλε ο Διεθνής Ερυθρός Σταυρός, που εδρεύει στη Γενεύη. Η πρώτη, με ημερομηνία 16 Οκτωβρίου 2012, είχε αποδέκτες τον πρωθυπουργό Αντώνη Σαμαρά και τον υπουργό Υγείας Ανδρέα Λυκουρέντζο. Η δεύτερη επιστολή με ημερομηνία 31 Ιανουαρίου 2013 απευθύνεται στον υπουργό Εξωτερικών Δημ. Αβραμόπουλο. Στο επίκεντρο εκφράζονται ανησυχίες (και απορίες) για την επικρατούσα διαχείριση στον Ελληνικό Ερυθρό Σταυρό.

Mr Antonis Samaras Minister of ellenic Republic Andreas Lykourgentzος Minister of Foreign Affairs and Social Solidarity eva, 16 October 2012 International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies only and had the opportunity to meet volunteers as well as with the Secretary As. Christina Papantoniou and some well-placed to respond to the increasing we receive, IFRC shares the concern that, dedicated volunteers and image of the well-placed to respond to the increasing the oldest in the International Red Cross the minimum requirements we all have members and volunteers of the National and the

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris L. Avramidopoulos

Minister of Foreign Affairs

the Hellenic Republic

Geneva, 31 January 2013

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

Excellency,

of the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies (IFRC) I

for the keen interest you have displayed in the challenging case of the Hellenic Red

Cross which was also confirmed by the appointment of Ambassador D. Kodelas as the representative of the Greek Government.

Yours letters addressed both to Your Excellency as well as His Excellency the

Foreign Affairs, have expressed my deep concern about the ability of the

Cross to meet its humanitarian obligations and uphold its integrity and thus the

whole IFRC. We are very disappointed to realize that, despite our efforts and

some members of the new leadership which is ready for change, that the

absence of any sincere will to cooperate, and hence, has been constantly

confirmed by their unwillingness to meet with our delegations which

the long years of the previous leadership of the National Society

my more of your valuable time, allow me very briefly just to enumerate

problems the Hellenic Red Cross is presenting to us.

return its obsolete statutes according to the recommendations of the

International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies

and the

reform of its internal structures.

Yours sincerely,